"She is very polite and humble, but self-confident, and man o' man what a voice!"

– Charley Jordan, KHLB 102.5

Plenty of praise was handed out to Briana Adams during her debut radio tour in 2017. Texas/Red Dirt radio quickly learned that she was a down to earth, hardworking, fun loving girl from Winchester, Texas who had a big voice. And man, could she sing.

Briana's newly released single is about the frustrations of being in a relationship that's not going anywhere. "Gone" is an upbeat tune about the decision to move on from a person in her life and highlights just how powerful her voice really is.
